

INFINITY EXIM

AN IMPORT-EXPORT COMPANY

FRUITS & DRYFRUITS

7016364863

INFINITYEXIM23@GMAIL.COM

About Us

Our company is dedicated to providing high-quality Agriculture, Spices,Dryfruits . We take pride in sourcing the freshest agriculture products and ensuring that they meet the highest standards of quality. Our wide range of spices adds flavor and richness to your dishes, enhancing the overall culinary experience. Additionally, we offer a comprehensive selection of that are manufactured under strict quality control measures

Banana

The export of food products from India is on the rise year after year. Banana export from India is one of the rapidly growing export markets. Being one of the largest banana exporters in the world, Indian banana exporter has successfully entered the global market. For export of banana, health and quality standards have to be maintained.

Mango

Mango is one of the most famous fruits of India. It is known as "King of fruits". The production of mangoes in India is around 15.03 million tons, contributing to 40.48% of the total world production of mango. Mango export from India has been increased by Rs. 209 crores in 2010-2011 from Rs 142 crores in 2006-200707. The indian mango export has thus grown by 47%. Export of mango from India is now a good opportunity for growth in the international market..

Orange

Oranges are one of the most popular citrus fruits in the world. Oranges can be consumed raw, in salads, juices, smoothies, desserts and in such other forms. Due to the rise in the demand for orange across the world Indian orange exporter has also increased the number of exports. India is the third-largest orange producer in the world. Therefore, the growth for orange export from India is also immense.

Pineapple

Pineapple is one of the most popular tropical fruits. 7% of the world's pineapple production is done in India. Thus Indian pineapple exporter export pineapple to various countries in the world. Pineapple is cultivated in the states of Kerala, Tripura and West Bengal and then pineapple export from India takes place. Export of pineapple takes place in many countries around the world.

Pomegranate

Pomegranates are one of the most loved fruits globally. They are generally sweet in taste with a bit of acidic nature. The Indian pomegranate exporter exports tonnes of pomegranates every year to many countries in the world. The global demand for pomegranates has seen a rise which has in turn increased the pomegranate export from India.

Dragon Fruits

Dragon fruits are a very popular fruit among foodies and health enthusiasts. It is basically a tropical fruit known for its vibrant red skin. Dragon fruits exporter in India exports a large number of dragon fruits abroad every year. Due to the increasing popularity of this fruit in the global market, Dragon Fruits export from India has been on the rise for a few years.

Grapes

Grapes are fruits that grow in clusters of 15 to 300. They can be green, black, pink and of such other colors. The Indian grapes exporter exports tonnes of grapes to various countries today. The global demand for grapes has been on the rise since a few years considering its uses in different cuisines and its nutritional benefits. The grapes export from India has thus significantly grown.

Guava

Guava is an evergreen shrub which is grown for its delicious edible fruits. Guavas can be eaten in several ways and have various health benefits. The Indian guava exporter exports tonnes of guavas to different parts of the world each year. The guava export from India has been rapidly growing due to the growing demand of the fruit worldwide. The export of guava from India is a good business opportunity for many local farmers and vendors today.

Litchi

Litchis are small, oval to roundish fruits of a Chinese tree called Litchi chinensis. These fruits have diverse uses and delicious taste. The Indian Litchi exporter exports tonnes of Litchis each year. Due to the various uses and benefits of these fruits, the Litchi export from India has been on a rise over the years. The export of Litchi from India is now a good business opportunity for local farmers and vendors to export their products and expand their business.

Papaya

Papaya is a tropical fruit generally eaten for its orange, sweet and juicy pulp. The Indian papaya exporter exports tonnes of papayas abroad each year. The papaya export from India has been increasing over the years due to the growing popularity of the fruit worldwide. The export of Papaya is a good opportunity for local farmers and vendors to expand their business and enter the international marketplace.

Sapota

Manilkara zapota popularly known as chikoo or Sapota is a long-lived, evergreen tree native to southern Mexico, Central America and the Caribbean. The Indian sapota exporter exports tonnes of fruits abroad each year. Due to the various uses and benefits of the fruits, the Sapota export from India has been increasing over the years. The export of Sapota from India is now a good business opportunity for local farmers and vendors to expand their business and enter the international market.

Watermelon

Watermelon is a popular large spherical fruit. It is dark green in color and has a smooth rind. It has a sweet, juicy, refreshing flesh of reddish colour. The Indian watermelon exporter exports watermelon from India which is worth 8.35 USD million. Due to the growing popularity of Watermelons, Watermelon export from India has been increasing over time.

Pears

Pears are fruits that are sweeter and of a softer texture compared to apples. Pears are generally elongated, narrow at the stem end, and broader at the opposite end. The Indian Pears exporter exports tonnes of the fruit abroad from India. This Pears export from India has been increasing over the years.

Amla

Green chillies are one of the most important parts of Indian cuisine. Green chilli exporter in India exports tonnes of chillies abroad each year. The growing popularity of the green chillies is because of its unique flavour and aroma. Green chilli export from India is thus a good business opportunity for our local farmers and vendors to enter the international market. Green chilli import from India includes the import of different types and qualities of chillies.

Cashew

Cashew is an average-sized tropical evergreen tree from the Anacardiaceae family. This tree is generally cultivated for its curved edible seeds. The Cashew Nuts exporter in India exports cashews to around 61 countries in the world. The combined value of the total Cashew Nuts export from India is around 41.64 USD million.

Walnut

Walnuts are rounded, single-seeded stone fruits of the walnut tree. Walnuts are rich in fats, fiber, vitamins and minerals. The Walnut exporter in India exports tonnes of the product abroad from India. This Walnut export from India has been increasing over the years. This may be because of the several health and medicinal benefits of walnuts

Almonds

Almonds are popularly referred to as nuts and are teardrop-shaped edible seeds. Almonds are primarily fruits of the almond tree. The Almond Nuts exporter in India exports tonnes of nuts abroad every year. The popularity of Almond Nuts has been growing in the world. This may be a reason why Almond Nuts export from India has also been growing rapidly.

Apricot

Apricots are stone fruits that are very nutritious. The Apricots exporter in India exports apricots to almost 95 countries in the world. The combined value of the total Apricots export from India is around 27.97 USD million. The Indian Apricots Exporter exports various varieties of Apricots to many countries including the Netherlands, China, USA, France and the United Kingdom. The Apricots export for these top five countries is worth about 17.4 USD million.

Dry Fig

Figs grow on the Ficus tree of the Mulberry family. The majority of figs are dried, either by exposure to sunlight or through an artificial process. The Dry fig exporter in India exports huge quantities of the figs each year. Due to the rising popularity of Dry Fig, Dry Fig export from India has been increasing rapidly over the decades. The Indian Dry Fig exporter, therefore, is exporting more and more products each year.

Pistachio

The Pistachio nuts are the edible seeds of the Pistacia vera tree. They contain healthy fats and are rich in protein, fiber, and antioxidants. The Pistachio exporter in India exports a huge quantity of the nuts each year. Due to the growing popularity of Pistachios, Pistachio export from India has also been on a rise.

Raisins

Raisins are basically dried grapes. They are shrivelled, bite-sized morsels of sweetness. They are a great and healthy snack option. The Raisins exporter in India exports tonnes of the product each year to many countries. The Raisins export from India has been increasing over time due to the growing popularity and the uses of the product.